NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Although we still lack moving some of our equipment and a whole lot of straightening up, the Hamlin Herald is finally operating in our newly remodeled building just one door South of where it has been located for the past 15 or so years.

Those of you that have been kind of keeping up with the progress of our remodeling know that it has been a long hard pull and it likely be another couple of weeks or so before we get very organized, but after our first day in our new quarters it is easy to see that it has all been worth it.

We hope that sometime next month we can have an open house we can show off a little. We believe that we now will have an office supply and stationery store that Hamlin can be proud of. We also will have as fine equipped commercial printing and publishing operation as can be found outside of the major cities.

We also hope that in our new quarters we will be able to publish a better newspaper.

Even though we plan an open house later we invite everyone to come by and visit us and let us show you around anytime.

Again we would like to thank our customers who have been so nice and understanding these past few weeks while we were in a mess trying to get ready to move.

Last week we received some information from Supt. of Schools, C. F. Cook, about the need for better attendance on the part of our school children and what effect it has on our schools.

This seems to be a continuing problem and we suppose that part of the problem is that many children are in school today that used to drop out. Years ago those children that did not want to go to school regularly or those whose parents did not insist that they attend school just dropped out. But today with the compulsory school attendance laws and the need for a better education, these youngsters remain in school, but they still do not attend regularly.

One of the biggest problems of poor attendance is what the school people call "losing a teacher." What they really mean is that we lose the state money to pay the teacher. We must hire teachers to teach the total enrollment, whether the students attend regularly or not, but the state pays only on the basis of average daily attendance.

What this means is that for every teacher above the state's allotted number the local taxpayers must pay 100 percent of the salary rather than the 25 to 30 percent. This can mean $4000 or $5000 more in local taxes.

Unfortunately, for the most part the parents whose children miss the most school pay the least taxes so they really don't care.

With sickness and bad weather taking a heavy toll in daily attendance, the only answer we can see is strict enforcement of the compulsory school law for those who miss without good reason.

This law must be enforced by the County Judge after being notified by the School Superintendent. The penalty is imposed on the parents.

We feel that it is the duty of responsible local citizens to see that this law is enforced for two reasons. The first is that of all the school children, it is those that miss the most that need what the school has to offer and the second is that their poor attendance places an unfair burden on the local taxpayers.

Neinda Philosopher Worried About What to Do With 50,000 People Fired By Space Agency

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One, reviews the space exploration situation this week more or less.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper that fell out of my neighbor's mail box and landed on the running board of my car — if you remind me cars don't have running boards anymore I'll suggest you attend to your business, I'll put the paper back, regardless of where it landed — Nasa, the space agency is letting off 50,000 workers, due to a slowing down in future moon landings and other space shots.

I knew this was going to happen. Practically everybody in the world watched the first moon landing, only about a third as many watched the second, the others went to bed figuring they'd see it on tape some time the next day. The third shot will attract even fewer.

It's like discovering the North Pole. The first man that did it was a hero, the second was acclaimed too, but now flying over the North Pole is about as eventful as flying over Stamford.

The moon just doesn't have enough to offer to keep man's interest, and therefore his money, up very long. It's so dead it doesn't even have any germs worth inventing a vaccine against down here on earth. The rocks brought back have made a lot of geologists happy, but geologists must have been doing something before they got the moon rocks.

Getting there and getting back is the big adventure, and since we've already proved we can do that, future trips may become about like mountain climbing — exciting mostly to the people doing the climbing.

Now I've almost gotten away from what I started to say. It's about these 50,000 workers being let off by the space agency.

Here's a fine set of workers, trained and skilled and eager to stay busy, and we've got to find something truly beneficial we could use them for.

I intend to spend the next few days figuring on this problem and next week will report on any ideas I've come up with.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Increased Costs Cause Medicare Fees to Go Up

Rising hospital care costs across the nation have forced Medicare's inpatient hospital deductible and coinsurance amounts to be increased accordingly, announced R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager in Abilene.

New rates in the hospital deductible and coinsurance became effective January 1, 1970, he continued. The deductible, payable at the beginning of a "benefit period" upon entrance in a hospital, was increased by $8, from $44 to $52. The coinsurance, payable by the patient after the first 60 days of hospitalization, rose from $11 to $13 per day.

Coinurance for the 60-day lifetime reserve (beginning after 90 days hospitalization) was increased from $22 to $26 daily.

Although Medicare will continue to pay all costs for the first 20 days in an extended care facility (skilled nursing home), the patient will be required to pay an additional dollar a day, $6.50 instead of $5.50 for the 21st through the 100th day of such care.

Tuley noted that these increased rates apply, however, only to benefit periods or "spells of illness" beginning on or after January 1, 1970. This means that Medicare beneficiaries receiving hospital or skilled care in a nursing home on December 31, 1969, will continue to pay at the old rate through this spell of illness. The increased rates will apply for the next spell of illness, which will begin after they have been out of a hospital or skilled nursing home for at least 60 days.

This fine turkey is one of more than six million noble birds that will be raised for market by Texas producers this year. This market used to be strictly seasonal, but dependable low-cost rural electricity for production, processing and freezing has helped provide a constant supply, thus stimulating a year-round demand. The Midwest Electric Cooperative invites you to put a Texas Turkey in your freezer and trot him out with all the trimmings for Valentine's or St. Patrick's Day. A Texas Turkey makes any occasion festive.

GEHL MIX-ALL

Grinds! Mixes! Delivers!

The Gehl Mix-All, with economy plain feeder and exclusive crusher-feeder attachment, grinds, mixes and delivers the most uniform on-the-farm feed.

Here's proof: Samples of feed grains, ground by Gehl and competitive mills, were compared in a "sieve-shaker" analysis (a grinding uniformity test used also by commercial feed manufacturers). In test after test, Gehl samples were the most uniformly ground. And, the more the more the grind, the better the mix!

In the Mix-All hammermill, 66 thin, alloy-steel hammers cut . . . not pound ingredients on a big grinding surface for faster feed flow with reduced "fines." Come on in for a close-up look at all the Mix-All features, including the swinging auger-feeder.
